POLICE COMMITTEE
FAILS TO REPORTNo One Yet Selected for Position of Desk Sergeant; Council Business.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 28.—The police committee of the council gracefully sidestepped the matter of the appointment of Ben Ternes as desk sergeant tonight by failing to make a report as anticipated. The situation appears to be a case of too many applicants for one position. While a majority of the members are not averse to reinstating Ternes on the police force, they, nor the chief of police, are willing to remove either of the desk sergeants to make room for Ternes, although the latter held the office for some time and was acting in that capacity when discharged last summer. If Ternes is appointed one of the present desk sergeants will be made a regular patrolman, but neither is willing to voluntarily resign. The complexity of the situation would have been removed tonight had the council been removed from the appointment as clerk of the municipal court, as was generally expected. Although an applicant for the position, John W. Brown, of Ogden, Judge Murphy sent in the name of Isaac Fuller, and the appointment was confirmed.

Thirty-five saloons, one brewery, and two wholesale liquor houses were granted renewals of the licenses. An exception, however, was made to the application of Greiner & Son, Councilman Dickson ascertained from Chief of Police Browning that a member of the firm is a minor, and the matter was held up pending a report from the license committee. A resolution was passed instructing the payment of $30,400 to the Ogden Waterworks company on the contract for the purchase of the waterworks system. In addition to this amount, the city already has paid $75,000 on the purchase price. A petition signed by C. E. Nye was presented, asking the city to construct a bridge across Weber river on Thirtieth street, for the convenience of the residents in that portion of the city. The petition was referred to the street committee.

Councilman Dana called attention to the condition of West Twenty-fourth street, which is said to be badly in need of repairs, and the matter was referred to the railroad and street committee for investigation.
